Preface

This is the fifth in a series of book catalogues of pre-19th century holdings in the National Library of Medicine. Its predecessors are:

Dorothy Schullian and Francis E. Sommer, A Catalogue of Incunabula and Manuscripts in the Army Medical Library (1950)

Richard J. Durling, A Catalogue of 16th Century Printed Books in the National Library of Medicine (1967)

Peter Krivatsy, A Catalogue of Incunabula and 16th Century Printed Books in the National Library of Medicine, First Supplement (1971)

John B. Blake, A Short Title Catalogue of 18th Century Printed Books in the National Library of Medicine (1979)

These catalogues record nearly 45,000 works that were published between the invention of printing and 1801 and that are now held by NLM. The book catalogues were prepared in order to make these holdings known and accessible to scholars around the world.

The holdings of NLM, including the records here, are also available in the CATLINE (CATalog on LINE) database and in a microfiche catalogue derived from CATLINE.

There are advantages to each of the formats. The book catalogues and microfiche are inexpensive and individual scholars can add them to their personal libraries. Their convenience also comes at a price, namely, the book catalogues do eventually go out of print and cannot be readily updated by the inclusion of subsequent additions to the Library.

The CATLINE database is updated frequently and, most importantly, permits searching that could not be undertaken in a book catalogue at all or only with great labor. For example, one can easily retrieve all of the citations to works published in a given language in a particular decade. Searching CATLINE on NLM's MEDLARS system is made easier by using the software package GRATEFUL MED, a personal computer based searching interface. For information on access to CATLINE and on GRATEFUL MED, contact the MEDLARS Management Section, Bibliographic Services Division, National Library of Medicine, 8600 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD 20894.

The present catalogue has been prepared by Peter Krivatsy. His work is a major contribution to the dissemination of information about the holdings of the National Library of Medicine. In addition, we hope and expect that it will serve as a contribution to the History of Medicine in particular and to 17th-century scholarship in general.

Introduction

This catalogue lists about 13,300 books printed between 1601 and 1700. Included are monographs, dissertations and corresponding program disputations, broadsides, pamphlets, and serials.

Entries are chiefly by author, editor, or compiler but occasionally by corporate body responsible for the work, and in some cases by a title created for a format, such as pharmacopoeia. Title entries are used also but only as a last resort. Aside from this infrequent practice, titles do not have separate entries.

Entries were established following the rules of the American Library Association's Rules for Author and Title Entries (2nd ed., 1949). Exceptions to these guidelines are that names of corporate bodies are used in the form current at the time the work was published and that entries under place names have been changed to those of the institutions themselves. The Library of Congress, Rules for Descriptive Cataloging (1949) were used with one exception: accents of Greek words were used as they appeared in each book. Most authors' names are listed in the vernacular form with see references for more complicated (usually Latin) names.

Entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the American Library Association, Rules for Filing Catalog Cards (1942). These rules are closely followed, for example, unlauts are filed as ae, oe, or ue.

Collation is by printed pages or printed leaves. In unpagged and unfoliated books the total number of printed pages or leaves is given within square brackets. Intermediate blank pages are counted but blank leaves are not.

Manual indexes of printers and publishers and vernacular imprints are maintained in the History of Medicine Division. Scholars who wish to use them may visit the Division or write: Chief, History of Medicine Division, National Library of Medicine, Bethesda, MD 20894. Interested persons may also write to this address for further information on searching NLM's online catalog, CATLINE, by place and language of publication and by printer's name.

De hominis partu (at end of vol. [2]) is identical in contents, except for the omission of the dedication, with the edition which was included as vol. [2] of his Epistolarum & consultationum medicinalium libri XXIII, published in Frankfurt in 1597, with title: . . . Quod homini certum non sit nascendi tempus: libri duo . . . The addition to this with running title "Historia foetus petrificati" is Jean Ailleboust's Portentosum lithopaedion, with a note by Siméon de Provanchères, as published in Sens in 1582.

—Epistolarum medicinalium tomi tertii libri duodecim. In quibus non solum maximae difficultates ad medicinam & philosophiam pertinentes dilucidantur; sed etiam Alexandri Massariae Vicentini Additamentum apologeticum, & disputationem secundum Hippocratis & Galeni doctrinam funditus evertuntur. Nunc primum Venetiis in lucem editi . . . Venetiis, Apud haeredem Damiani Zenarii, 1607.

FRAGOSO, JUAN [d. 1597] Cirugia universal, aora nuevamente emendada, y añadida en esta 6. impression . . . Y mas otros quatro tratados. El primero es una suma de proposiciones contra ciertos avisos de cirugia. El segundo, de las declaraciones a cerca de diversas heridas, y muertes. El tercero, de los Aforismos de Hipocrates, tocantes a cirugia. El quarto, de la naturaleza, y calidades de los medicamentos simples. Alcala de Henares, En casa de Juan Gracian, 1621.

[4], 685, [38] p. 31 cm. [4244]

Imperfect: title page and p. 1-4 wanting, supplied in photocopy from Bibliothèque nationale, Paris.

"Tres tratados de cirugia" (p. [51]-616) has special title page.

The original version of the Cirugia universal appeared in Madrid in 1570 under title: Erotemas chirurgicos.

"Tratado tercero, de los aforismos de Hipocrates tocantes a la cirugia: con una breve exposicion sobre cada uno dellos" (p. 577-616) includes selections from the Aphorismi in Latin and Spanish.

—[Italian tr.] Della cirugia . . . parti due, nelle quali di tutte le cose, che alla cirugia appartengono, essattamente si ragiona. Tradotte dalla lingua spagnola nella italiana da Baldassar Grasso alias Grassia, con l'aggiunta di altre tre trattati utilissimi alla cirugia del secondo Gio Frago. Palermo, Antonio Martarello, 1639.

[13], 424 (i.e. 240) p. 33 cm. [4245]

Although the three treatises at end are attributed here and in later editions of this Italian translation to a supposed Juan Frago II, they are apparently by Juan Frago, author of the first part of the work.

"Trattato terzo de gl'aforismi d'Hipp. pertinenti alla cirugia, con alcuna breve espositione sopra ciascheduno di quelli per il II. Giovanni Frago, &c." (p. 401-424 (i.e. 398-420)) includes selections from the Aphorismi in Latin and Italian.
